GROUNDING PROCEDURES

In order to minimize problems resulting from improper grounding, and to achieve maximum signal-to-noise ratios, the following grounding procedures shall be adhered to:

A. SYSTEM GROUNDS: A single primary "system ground" shall be established for the systems in each particular area. All grounding conductors in that area shall connect to this primary system ground. The system ground shall be provided in the audio equipment rack for the area and shall consist of a copper bar of sufficient size to accommodate all secondary ground conductors. A copper conductor, having a maximum of 0.1 Ohms total resistance, shall connect the primary system ground bar to the nearest metallic electrical conduit of at least 2 inches in diameter. The Contractor shall be responsible for determining if the metallic conduit is properly electrically bonded to the building ground system.

B. SECONDARY SYSTEM GROUNDING CONDUCTORS shall be provided from all racks, audio consoles and ungrounded audio equipment in each area, to the primary system grounding point for the area. Each of these grounding conductors shall have a maximum of 0.1 Ohms total resistance. Under no conditions shall the AC neutral conductor, either in the power panel or in a receptacle outlet, be used for a system ground.

C. AUDIO CABLE SHIELDS: All audio cable shields shall be grounded at one point only. There are no exceptions. For inter and intra-rack wiring this requires that the shield be connected at one end only. For ungrounded portable equipment, such as microphones, the shield shall be connected at both ends but grounded at only one end.

D. VIDEO RECEPTACLES: All video receptacles that are provided and installed by the Contractor shall be insulated from the mounting panel, outlet box, or wireway. Unless otherwise detailed herein, this shall be accomplished by using insulated-from-panel type receptacles.

E. GENERAL: Because of the great number of possible variations in grounding systems, it shall be the responsibility of the Contractor to follow good engineering practice as outlined by EIA/TIA and recommended by BICSI and INFOCOMM. Deviation from these practices is permitted only when necessary to minimize crosstalk and to maximize signal-to-noise ratios in the audio, video, and control systems.

SYSTEM DOCUMENTATION

Winning Bidder shall provide two (2) system documentation USB drives to include all user's manuals (PDF file format), system operating instructions (Microsoft Word file format), all control system software, firmware, ir/serial/control drivers, compiled and un-compiled source code warranty statement, certificate of completion, system drawings and equipment list (quantity, description, serial number and model number in Microsoft Excel file format). Additionally, all users' manuals and other printed documents should be bound and submitted. On any project that includes multiple rooms, the winning bidder shall also provide TCNJ an accurate list of serial numbers in a room by room format in Microsoft Excel format.

The Contractor will submit a "Certificate of Completion" to assure that the system has passed all tests and is fully functional, at which time TCNJ must concur to validate certificate

TRAINING

Upon official completion of the project, if requested TCNJ shall be provided with up to 2 separate training sessions that shall be provided by the contractor. TCNJ reserves the right to video and audio record these sessions for use at a later event
